2 AUTUMN LEARN AT LUNCH SESSIONS

Looking beyond clinical audit:
options for career development with Emma Challans on Wednesday 20 October 2021
(1230 to 1330)

Emma will use the session to reflect on her career that commenced in clinical audit over 20 years ago. Since this time, audit has acted as a springboard into a variety of different roles. Emma is now Executive Director of Culture and Improvement at CQC Outstanding rated Sherwood Forest Hospitals NHSFT.

As part of the talk there will be comparisons between opportunities in clinical audit and quality improvement roles and the session will focus on how you can enhance your career prospects.

VUCA: Volatile, Uncertain, Complex and Ambiguous with Tim Sims on Tuesday 23 November 2021
(1230 to 1330)

Tim has an incredible resume: he works with the NHS and for the United Nations in the Middle East and elsewhere. He has been a QI Evaluator, worked for the Royal College of Psychiatrists and evaluated HQIP's work.

VUCA is a fashionable acronym invented by the US military in 2000 to describe life in this century and it has come true! This session will look at how you stay sane when the world ambushes your working life. The session will look at how to cope and a resource pack will be shared.
